THE PASTOR'S POST

BE A SHEEP

Dear Parish Family:

I use a resource for prayer, at times, called Sacred Space. (This is not a recommendation or an endorsement. It's just something that helps me at times in the spiritual life.) It is based in the Ignatian tradition of the Church inviting the reader to reflect about the presence of God while incorporating the Gospel for daily Mass.

The reflection this week has called me to reflect more deeply on what it means to be a child of God. It is a concept the writers of the book took, I believe, from some of the readings offered throughout the week. It sort of pushed me to think of my own parents and those other "parent-figures" in my life who seek to care, nurture, support, challenge and embrace me. I think of how, at times, I might be called to do the same as a "father-figure" to others. Why do we struggle, at times, to see God caring for, nurturing us, supporting us, challenging us, and embracing us in the same way?

I'd be a better man, disciple, and priest if I can surrender a bit more to my proper role as a child of God first before thinking of the ways I am supposed to be a co-worker in the vineyard or the field. If I start to remember who I am first - a child of God - then it changes how I approach everything else in my day. If I'm a child of God - with the ability to surrender, to trust, to turn to my loving God - then it is not just what I am doing, it is what I am doing with God's help, presence, and nurturing love for with me.

This all comes to mind because of today's readings. I'm not so much drawn to the image of the Shepherd - good or bad - as we listen and read about it in each of the readings. I'm drawn more to reflect on my role as a sheep, the one led by and cared for by THE Shepherd. I think the psalm might give us some clues as to how to best proceed being better sheep, better children of God. It is a psalm we're familiar with, maybe even too familiar with at times. So, let's consider three actions that might help:

- He leads me... In my life and yours, who takes the lead? Truthfully, for me, most often I do. THEN, I ask the Lord to come along. Rather than seeking where the Lord leads, I prefer to go on my path and hope he'll come along. Good sheep follow the shepherd! We should take some more time to ask the Lord the best way to proceed and follow his lead.
- I fear no evil; for you are at my side... At times, I can find myself paralyzed by fear and anxiety. There are valid responses to concerns that can plague us in this life. We do face evil, we know dark valleys (as another part of the psalm highlights). As good sheep though, we must remember no matter what we face, we do not face it alone. The shepherd is always at our side.
- Only goodness and kindness follow me... More on this next week, I hope. We must always take time to see the goodness and kindness that God makes known to us during each day and moment of our lives. Like a good shepherd, a good parent, God is always showering good things on his people, especially his beloved child - YOU!
- All the days of my life... The relationship between a parent and a child is not time limited. No. It is everlasting. This is true of the shepherd's love for his sheep, of the Father's love for his children. Never forget this! God is not going anywhere!

So this week, be a sheep. Ask THE Shepherd to lead you and guide you. More importantly, let him just love you as his beloved son or daughter. Please pray for me. I promise the same.

Father Jim

EL POST DEL PARROCO

SE UNA OVEJA

Querida familia parroquial:

A veces utilizo un recurso para la oración, llamado Espacio Sagrado. (Esto no es una recomendación ni una aprobación. Es sólo algo que me ayuda a veces en la vida espiritual). Se basa en la tradición ignaciana de la Iglesia invitando al lector a reflexionar sobre la presencia de Dios a la vez que incorpora el Evangelio para la misa diaria.

La reflexión de esta semana me ha llamado a reflexionar más profundamente sobre lo que significa ser un hijo de Dios. Es un concepto que los escritores del libro tomaron, creo, de algunas de las lecturas ofrecidas a lo largo de la semana. En cierto modo, me empujó a pensar en mis propios padres y en esas otras "figuras paternas" de mi vida que intentan cuidarme, nutrirme, apoyarme, desafiarme y abrazarme. Pienso en cómo, a veces, yo podría estar llamado a hacer lo mismo como "figura paterna" para los demás. ¿Por qué nos cuesta a veces ver que Dios nos cuida, nos nutre, nos apoya, nos desafía y nos abraza de la misma manera?

Sería mejor hombre, discípulo y sacerdote si pudiera rendirle un poco más a mi propio papel como hijo de Dios, antes de pensar en las formas en que se supone que debo ser un colaborador en la viña o en el campo. Si empiezo a recordar quién soy primero - un hijo de Dios - entonces cambia mi manera de abordar todo lo demás en mi día a día. Si soy hijo de Dios - con la capacidad de rendirme, de confiar, de acudir a mi Dios amoroso - entonces no es sólo lo que estoy haciendo, es lo que estoy haciendo con la ayuda, la presencia y el amor nutrido de Dios para hacer conmigo.

Todo esto me viene a la mente por las lecturas de hoy. No me atrae tanto la imagen del Pastor -bueno o malo- que escuchamos y leemos en cada una de las lecturas. Me atrae más reflexionar sobre mi papel de oveja, la que es guiada y cuidada por EL Pastor.

Creo que el salmo puede darnos algunas pistas sobre cómo proceder para ser mejores ovejas, mejores hijos de Dios. Es un salmo con el que estamos familiarizados, puede que incluso dos a veces. Así que consideremos tres acciones que podrían ayudarnos:

- Él me guía... En mi vida y en la tuya, ¿quién lleva la iniciativa? A decir verdad, en mi caso, la mayoría de las veces lo hago yo. Entonces, le pido al Señor que me acompañe. En lugar de buscar a dónde me lleva el Señor, prefiero seguir mi camino y esperar que Él venga. ¡Las buenas ovejas siguen al pastor! Deberíamos tomarnos más tiempo para preguntar al Señor cuál es la mejor manera de proceder y seguir su ejemplo.
- No temo ningún mal, porque tú estás a mi lado... A veces, puedo encontrarme paralizado por el miedo y la ansiedad. Hay respuestas válidas a las preocupaciones que pueden surgir en esta vida. Nos enfrentamos al mal, conocemos los valles oscuros (como destaca otra parte del salmo). Sin embargo, como buenas ovejas, debemos recordar que no importa a qué nos enfrentemos, no lo hacemos solos. El pastor siempre está a nuestro lado.
- Sólo la bondad y la amabilidad me siguen... Más sobre esto la próxima semana, espero, pero siempre debemos tomarnos tiempo para ver la bondad y la amabilidad que Dios nos da a conocer durante cada día y momento de nuestras vidas. Como un buen pastor, un buen padre, Dios siempre está derramando cosas buenas sobre su pueblo, especialmente sobre su hijo amado: ¡TÚ!
- Todos los días de mi vida... La relación entre un padre y un hijo no está limitada en el tiempo. Es eterna. Así es el amor del pastor por sus ovejas, así es el amor del Padre por sus hijos. No lo olvidéis nunca. Dios no se va a ninguna parte.

Así que esta semana, sé una oveja. Pídele a EL Pastor que te conduzca y te guíe. Y lo que es más importante, que te ame como a su amado hijo o hija.

Por favor, reza por mí. Prometo lo mismo.

Father Jim

Looking Ahead...Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Pray with next Sunday's readings and consider these questions. You can access the readings at www.usccb.org or by making use of the Sunday's Word or Sanctus books.

First Reading: 2 Kings 4:42-44

Elisha was brought twenty barley loaves, which he set before a crowd of one-hundred. All ate and there was plenty of food left over.

- Who really helped the people in the crowd?
